

Fair Trade for All

Developed by: Trudi Waterfall, Jacqueline Grace, Tim Grace for the Fair Trade Association of Australia and New Zealand.
Designed by Julian Frost.

Fair Trade for All has been developed in response to the desire for Australian based educational materials that focus on issues of trade justice, and in particular the Fairtrade certification system. It aims to equip teachers and educators to comprehensively instruct the learning of students in concrete matters of trade and fairness. It also aims to create a link between the Fair trade industry in Australia and those doing the educating to more adequately resource teachers with hands on materials and practical applications of classroom based theory.

Each module of Fair Trade for All has been developed in accordance with Victorian Essential Learning Standards (VELS) to inform teachers of the key learning areas that they have the opportunity to address, and assessment criteria that they have covered as they complete each module.

The developers of this kit would like to take the opportunity to thank the following organisations for their support in the development of this resource; The Myer Foundation; Tasmanian Centre for Global Learning; Oxfam Australia; Oxfam New Zealand, FairWear; and Australian Catholic University: Students for Awareness.

We sincerely hope that Fair Trade for All assists you in role in educating Australia's youth and we thank you for taking the time to include Fair Trade in the knowledge base that you impart to your students.
